November 2019 Meeting Notice

How To Record an Abrams Tank

With
Stephen Brown - 343 Industries
Presented by The AES Pacific Northwest Section

Digipen Institute of Technology
Wednesday, November 20, 2019, 7:30pm

directions

Stephen Brown will discuss his extensive experience recording military tanks and ordnance at various locations in the U.S. and Ukraine.
"The aim of my presentation is to present a high-level, yet practical, walk-through of the steps and methods needed to successfully record an army tank, or any large scale recording session. I will go over preparation, process, tools and tips, and pitfalls of recording audio by focusing on what is important and what to watch out for. By the end of my lecture I hope listeners will have the confidence to go out and successfully tackle some ambitious field recordings for themselves."

Our Presenter

Stephen Brown, sound designer, 343 Industries (formerly with Wargaming) Stephen Brown is a video game audio professional with over a decade of experience specializing in sound design, implementation and audio direction.
