Our October meeting will be a review of the September AES 105th Convention in San Francisco and a tour of Seattle's new concert hall complex, Benaroya Hall.

Slides and commentary by members will highlight the convention for those who could not attend.

Benaroya Hall, with its Taper Auditorium and Nordstrom Recital Hall, is Seattle's one month old concert hall with acoustics by noted designer Cyril Harris. The home of the Seattle Symphony and many other performing groups, the $118 million facility has been widely praised for its acoustics, but the complete story is still being heard. The tour will include some of the internal structure of the hall. Soloists may be available to enable us to hear actual music in the halls.

NON-MEMBERS ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND
